This 2007 Land Rover Defender 130 is finished in Stornoway Grey with a contrasting white roof. It's an abundantly capable 4x4, specified in the practical and rare long-wheelbase Pick Up configuration, and fitted with some desirable upgrades.

Under the bonnet is a turbocharged 2.4-litre inline-four diesel, driving all four wheels through a six-speed manual transmission.

The cabin is trimmed in black leather and cloth, the upholstery is in great shape, with the cabin having slight signs of use, but with no significant wear or discolouration.

It rides on a set of black ZU-look alloy wheels, shod with Goodrich All-terrain tyres.

The upgraded specification includes a black tonneau cover from Exmoor Trim, Heritage front grill, Full LED lighting, Steering-guard, Comfort Cubby box, Raptor liner details,...

The paintwork is in very good condition with some light signs of use. The loading bay was used as intended and has some more marks. The chassis was recently completely overhauled and treated.

The car was fully polished a while back and a ceramic coating was applied to add extra shine and to make maintenance easier.

This is a well-presented example of the legendary Land Rover Defender 130, offered for sale in lesser-seen Double Cab Pick Up configuration. Fitted with a selection of desirable extras to further enhance its on- and off-road usability, this robust utility vehicle is sure to appeal to any adventurer or marque enthusiast seeking a rugged and reliable workhorse.

This defender has never known off-road and has always been maniacally maintained.

All original partse (Wheels, lights, cover, frame, grille,...) of the car are sold along.
